Yep, Ugg Boots Are Back In Style, Here Are the New Fan Favorites to Rock This Winter

Time to bring out the old pair.

BH, I never thought that Uggs were going to go back into style, with the exception of their slippers. The original Ugg boots were a mainstream hot item when I was in middle school, and they slowly started to go out of style. If you wore Uggs last year you were "Living in 2013", so what brought about so much hype around Ugg boots?

Personally, Ugg boots coming back into style gets me excited, it's already on my Christmas list. The practicality of Uggs, especially in cold weather, combined with the comfort and how cute they are, what more could you ask for? You can style them casually with leggings and fuzzy socks, or dress them up with jeans and a sweater, either way you are staying cozy this winter.

The new Ugg boot craze was mostly popularized through TikTok. My for you page is constantly filtering people styling their Ugg boots, and I have to say TikTok celebs do a good job on influencing everyone. Major celebs also play a role in persuading people to buy Ugg boots, although Bella and Gigi Hadid could wear a cup on their head and anyone would think it's high fashion. However, other celebrities such as Beyonce, JLO, Keke Palmer, and Hailey Bieber have been rocking Uggs quite a lot recently, so of course they are one of the hottest items right now.
